THE Clarksville Chronicle of the 50th ult, has an able and powerful article on the next Gubernatorial canvass. The Chronicle deprecates the discussion about old Whiggery and old Democracy; but we tear the tone of its article will add fuel to the fire it would extinguish. The nomination of either General Quarels or General Brown, will be satisfactory to the people, who are looking to one of these favorite sons of Tennessee as their next Governor, and we trust that the party will not be forced to take up a new man on account of the fend which the friends of the aspirants are last engendering.
